Assembly To Act Thursday On Tax

Measure Unanimously Made Special Order of Business for 10 A. M. Mar. 26

COMMITTEE FAVORS BILL

Conservatives Parry for Delay to Line Up Opposition Next Week

By Associated Press

Madison—The income tax bill will be taken up for consideration by the assembly next Thursday. It was made special order of business for 10 a. m. on that date by unanimous consent requested by Charles B. Perry, Wauwatosa, a conservative leader.

When the taxation committee's report recommending concurrence in the measure was presented to the assembly Friday, J. D. Millar, acting chairman of the committee asked unanimous consent that the bill be placed on Wednesday's calendar. Perry then made his request for delay until Thursday which he obtained. There was no discussion.

ASK DELAY

The assembly committee voted to report the bill for concurrence after an executive session Thursday. The vote was 4 to 2. Chairman George Schmidt, J. D. Millar, Thomas M. Duncan and John L. Larson voting for a favorable report and Assemblyman Edwards and Bernard Mathiowetz voting against it.

Opposition of Assemblymen Mathiowetz and Edwards, the latter said, resulted from the failure of the committee to bulletin the bill for a public hearing or delay action until it could be considered further in committee.

The opponents of the bill took the position that the former public hearing on the original measure was not a joint hearing and that they wanted more time in which to study the amended bill, Mr. Edwards said.

On the other hand, proponents regard the measure as having been given sufficient hearing and that the assemblymen have had an opportunity to study it during its progress in the senate, declared Mr. Duncan. He said they considered the amended bill merely as the original in changed form and not a new proposal.

GIVE FIELD HOUSE

The final legislative step toward construction of an athletic field house at the University of Wisconsin was taken, when the assembly concurred in the senate bill appropriating the necessary funds. The vote was 78 to 3.

Without discussion the lower house refused 42 to 34, to concur in the Heck resolution for a constitutional amendment requiring two-thirds majority vote of the Wisconsin supreme court to declare acts unconstitutional. Fifty-one votes were required for concurrence.

The Krause resolution for a committee investigation of the advisability of establishing a branch state administration building in Milwaukee was adopted, 43 to 31.

NOT MURDER TO KILL BY GERMS, SAYS DEFENSE

Shepherd's Attorneys Say Case Does Not Come Under Illinois Statutes

STATE IGNORES POINT

Prosecutors Seek Girl Who Called on Mrs. Olson and Warned Her to Leave

By Associated Press

Chicago—Attorneys for William D. Shepherd, held on an indictment charging him with the killing of his foster-son, William Nelson McClintock, orphan millionaire, with typhoid germs, prepared Friday for a fight to obtain his release on bail at his preliminary hearing Saturday.

William Scott Stewart, chief of the defense counsel, outlining his argument said he would endeavor to show that killing a man by giving him typhoid germs is not murder under Illinois law, which he said, designates only certain specific methods of killing and does not include administration of disease germs.

Stewart said they would oppose the defense line of reasoning on the ground that if it were allowed to stand it would permit murder by any means not mentioned in the law. Meanwhile prosecutors continued searching for a file of correspondence, they said had passed between Shepherd and the head of a private detective agency.

GIRL CALLED

Another witness sought was a girl who several days ago called on the widow of Oscar Olson, brother of Harry Olson, municipal court chief justice and instigator of the inquiry into McClintock's death. The girl warned Mrs. Olson to leave here saying "it wouldn't be healthy" if she remained.

Dr. Winfield S. Hoerger, city health inspector, and Dr. Harry Rand, former health department employee, denied having any connection with the National University of Sciences, whose head, Charles C. Fairman said he had given the germs to Shepherd. Their names had appeared on stationery of the school.

Fairman, jointly indicted with Shepherd was still in custody of state attorneys police in a hotel and had not been formally arrested in the charges of the indictment.

Survivors Dig In Wreckage For Missing Loved Ones

Chicago, Ill.—The Chicago Daily News correspondent at DeSoto, Ill., says:

"Picture a mile wide strip from DeSoto, Jacksonco, to West Frankfort, Williamsonco, strewn with lumber, uprooted trees, battered furniture, overturned automobiles, and wrecked railway cars; a desolate unoccupied scrap yard and you have a fair view of what the surviving occupants of the tornado-stricken territory are trying to reclaim today.

"Day break this morning found little groups in tattered clothing red eyes and stolid countenances, picking up small piles of kindling wood where their homes formerly stood in the hope of salvaging something of value from the ruins.

"Under the leadership of a Red Cross worker, men are feverishly digging in smoldering heaps for the dead that are reported to be buried there.

"At intervals their task brings results and the bodies are removed to the morgue while their former neighbors look on with little show of emotion—they have seen too much horror late to be much shocked at anything now.

MARQUIS CURZON DIES AT LONDON

Noted English Peer and Statesman Fails to Survive Attack of Pneumonia

London—Death Friday claimed the Marquis George Nathaniel Curzon, 66, lord president of the council and former foreign secretary.

The end came at 5:35 Friday morning, after a fight against pneumonia which developed following his operation of two weeks ago.

The first intimation of the break in his health came March 5 when he collapsed while dressing for a public dinner at Cambridge ridge at which he was to have delivered a speech.

Marquis Curzon was born at Kedleston, Jan. 11, 1859, the eldest son of the Rev. Alfred Nathaniel Holden Curzon, the fourth Baron Scarsdale. He married twice, taking an American wife on both occasions. In 1889 he married Miss Mary Victoria Leiter of Washington. She died in 1906. His second wife, whom he married in 1917, was Mrs. Grace Elvina Hinds Duggan.

The Marquis was named one of the imperial war cabinet members in the Lloyd-George coalition government and was made leader of the house of lords in 1916. He continued in that position throughout the war and the reconstruction period. He became secretary of state for foreign affairs in 1919 and continued in that office in the Bonar-Law government after the Lloyd-George rule had been smashed by the Tories.

TACNA, ARICA AWARD CAUSES U. S. DISQUIET

Provinces Claimed by Peru and Chile Prove Another Alliance-Lorraine

HUGHES MADE DECISION

Ordered Plebiscite Not on Basis of Sentiment but on Law and Facts

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1925, by Post Pub. Co.

Washington, D. C.—America's most delicate job of arbitration in a half century carrying with it an implication that the United States can heal controversies in this western hemisphere without recourse to Latin-American countries to the League of Nations is for the moment tinged with elements of uncertainty and embarrassment.

Peru doesn't like America's decision, believing Chile has been favored. But Peru is bound by solemn treaty to accept the arbitration. Nevertheless popular demonstrations indicate the sentimental feeling of the Peruvian people and unfortunately may even hurt the good relations between the United States and Peru. The American people, of course, know that no policy consideration but the detached judicial mind of Charles Evans Hughes, one of the foremost jurists of the world, wrote the decision.

DISPUTED 40 YEARS

Ever since 1833 the question has been in dispute and Mr. Hughes had his choice of making a judicial or political award. So far as sentiment goes, Peru has been a better friend in recent years to America than has Chile. If favoritism were to have been shown, Peru should have been the beneficiary. But Mr. Hughes decided not on sentiment but on the law and the facts.

For 42 years the two provinces of Tacna and Arica have been the Alsace-Lorraine of South America. The territory is about 9,000 square miles in area about the size of the state of Massachusetts. Peru had declared war on Chile over nitrate fields and when the treaty of 1833 was signed Chile found herself in military possession of Tacna and Arica. It was agreed in the treaty that the disposition of the region was then to be decided by a vote of the people 10 years after the war.

No agreement has ever been possible since, however, on the manner of carrying out the referendum. Finally President Harding suggested that the negotiations be brought to Washington and Secretary Hughes secured the adoption by both Peru and Chile of a protocol agreeing to submit the dispute to arbitration by the United States.

SAFEGUARD VOTE

It was agreed in advance by both sides that if a referendum was ordered then the arbitrator was to fix the terms and conditions of the election, providing safeguards for an honest vote. The population of the disputed area is about 25,000.

But a virtually new generation has been born and grown old since 1833 and whatever the population of the region was then it is true that Chilean customs and administrative methods have been introduced. Yet civil and military officials are not to be permitted to vote and no one who has not lived in the area before 1920 can vote. Also by Peru and Chile in the arbitration protocol originally it was agreed that which-ever country lost the election would be paid $10,000,000 by the winning country. The region in dispute is of doubtful value.

If Chile wins, there is some reason to believe she will give Bolivia—the only country in south America without a bit of seacoast—an outlet to the sea, possibly a "corridor" to the Pacific.

END TESTIMONY IN SUIT OF DENNISTOUN COUPLE

By Associated Press

London—The defense in the Dennistoun case rested Friday Mrs. Dorothy Murrie Dennistoun had been recalled to testify regarding bills for dresses purchased in Paris. She is suing her former husband, Lieut. Col. Ian Onslow Dennistoun for money she alleges she loaned him prior to their divorce in 1921. After the divorce he married the widow of the Earl of Carnarvon.

The court said it proposed to submit to the jury a number of questions regarding the agreement which Mrs. Dennistoun said the colonel made in Paris at the time of their divorce, notably whether the agreement actually existed, whether it was collusive, whether both parties intended to give it legal effect and whether any of its conditions had been already fulfilled. Arguments are expected to occupy Friday and part of Monday.

Death Toll Of Tornado Is Largest In History

Airplanes Rush Lockjaw Serum To Stricken People

Indianapolis—Anti tetanus serum—750 tubes, all that was available here—was sent to storm-torn southern Illinois early Friday in an airplane in command of two army officers of Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Red Cross officers working at Carbondale and Murphysboro, and other nearby hamlets in appeals to the local organization requested the serum be sent as quickly as possible so that it would be available at daybreak.

Two army officers, Lieutenants R. H. Stewart, of Indianapolis, and Harry Mills of Dayton, members of the reserve air force started the trip at daybreak.

According to William Fortune, local director of the Red Cross relief, the serum sent from here was the last of the available supply. Officials of the Eli Lilly and Company drug manufacturers called their large staff into action last night and declared that by noon today they would have made up a sufficient supply to care for all the injured. Available supplies of the serum at Chicago and St. Louis were exhausted, the message from Carbondale said.

Relief machinery of the American Red Cross was in full motion in behalf of the thousands of injured and homeless in the tornado-wrecked section. National headquarters at Washington, D. C. were speeding every facility for its growing force of relief workers in the field. It stood ready also to carry out its offer of aid for the sufferers from fire at Tokio and of flood at Tuffalo Peru.

A party of trained disaster relief workers, mobilized at Red Cross headquarters Thursday, arrived at Princeton, Ind., to aid in rehabilitating the homeless and give all other assistance possible. They will join other workers in operation under the direction of Henry M. Baker, national director of disaster relief, who assumed immediate charge of operations.

Mr. Baker is giving his attention primarily to the situation in the southern Indiana area, where reports so far received at headquarters indicate the greatest damage was done.

Ford Will Build World's Highest Dirigible Mast

By Associated Press

Detroit, Mich.—The Detroit Free Press Friday quotes Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor Co., as saying that his company will go into the production of airplane motors as soon as experiments now in progress at its laboratories come to a head.

Mr. Ford also is quoted as saying that construction will be started at once at the Ford air plant of the largest dirigible mooring mast in the world, to be constructed at a cost of $75,000 for the mooring of the Shenandoah and Los Angeles or any other craft of similar or even greater size. Mr. Ford said that the Ford Motor Co. is not considering the manufacture of complete planes but it is interested financially in a Detroit airplane company now building planes and in a Detroit organization which, Mr. Ford said soon will place the first metal clad lighter than air ship in the air.

The mooring mast, on which the steel work is expected to start April 16, according to the Ford interview in the Free Press will be 201 feet high, 28 feet higher than the mast at Lakehurst, N. J. Three legs on which the mast will rest, will be seventy feet apart, and between them will be erected a building to serve as a station for air travelers. A five-passenger elevator completely enclosed runs to a height of 175 feet. Beyond that, leading to operating platform is an enclosed stairway. The gangplank into the airship will be enclosed.

Loss Exceeds 1913 Ohio Valley Flood Damage which Reached $500,000,000

Hospitals and Morgues Overflowing—Legislatures Appropriate Relief

Reports at noon Friday showed 815 dead and about 3,000 injured in Wednesday's tornado in southern Illinois, Indiana and Missouri. Associated Press casualty lists totaled 577 identified dead.

Kentucky and Tennessee stricken areas are virtually cleaned up. Burials being made in both states.

A few hamlets in Missouri are yet unreported. Casualty lists dead at 15. Dead at Murphysboro, Ill., climbing to previous estimates. One hundred and seventy-five known so far.

West Frankfort, deaths increased to 110. Deaths in other Illinois cities unchanged in numbers.

All bodies have been recovered at Princeton, Ind., and most of them at Owensville. Passable roads are making rescue and relief work more expeditious. Property loss in Indiana towns estimated at from three to four million dollars.

Devastated regions turning to plans and means of burying their dead. Shortage of coffins and facilities may cause great burials.

It has been estimated that more than one third of the nearly 120 dead at DeSoto, Ill., were children under three years.

A violent snow storm fringed the tornado on the north when it struck Wednesday. Weather bureau predicts freezing or above in the devastated region Friday night; much colder Saturday.

Chicago—The little group of 10 or 12 neighboring towns in southern Illinois which paid in mortality heavier than any others in Wednesday's tornado, with daylight Friday began again the task of removing and preparing their dead for burial and taking inventory of their few material remains.

Their total loss of life would go much over 500 still seemed evident. Into what figure the total would run was as problematical as what sums would cover their losses in homes, business buildings, industrial plants and community enterprises.

The revised casualty list showed 823 listed dead and 2,990 injured. Thousands were homeless and property damage was estimated in the millions. Identified dead in five states numbered 468.

Those suffered greatest loss of life with 64. Relief workers said the figure might reach 1,000. In addition nearly 2,000 were injured. Figures for other states were: Indiana 300, Tennessee 33, Missouri 27, Kentucky 18.

Red Cross officials at Washington called it greatest disaster since Ohio valley flood in 1913, when property damage reach $500,000,000.

START DIGGING OUT

Murphysboro, West Frankfort, DeSoto, Carham, Benton, Bush, Mcleanboro, Logan, Parilla and Enfield, all in a section covered by 60 or 75 miles, each was digging out from its catastrophe. In between them were a few other hamlets which also wear the black band of mourning.

Murphysboro continued to lead the list of actual dead with 175 accounted for. Then followed West Frankfort with a registered dead of 100 and great possibilities for one much higher. DeSoto's list at 113 was nearing its completion. Casualties in the other towns ranged from one to fifty.

The last available supply of anti-tetanus serum at Indianapolis, 750 tubes, has been sent to Carbondale and Murphysboro.

The Red Cross announced that James Louis Feiser at St. Louis was placed in supreme command of destroyed area, with Henry M. Baker, national director of disaster relief, in charge of operations.

STORM TYPICAL

Additional light on the characteristic and behavior of the great tornado was provided by Prof. Henry J. Cox, government forecaster at Chicago, who called it a typical mid-west springtime storm. It originated over the Gulf of Lower California he said, passed harmlessly over Colorado, dipped to Arkansas, and then took a path of least resistance along the Ohio valley. There its major force was spent and it rushed off on a high wind in the direction of Iceland.

Prof. Cox explained that in the spring the sun heats the air in certain regions causing warm whirling currents which strike colder waves from the north. The result is a great circular movement of the air over a large area called a cyclone. Tornadoes, Turn to page 7, col. 2

MUELLER DEFENDS HIS ATTITUDE ON MARGARINE BILL

First District Assemblyman Declares Minier Measure Protects Farmer

"It is very apparent to everyone that if the production and sale of butter substitutes continue to increase, the dairy interests of Wisconsin will not be able to continue operation unless some curb is put upon the margarine industry," Fred A. Mueller, Black Creek, assemblyman from the First district, Outagamie county, declared in an open letter replying to objections offered by more than 60 businessmen of Appleton and other cities in the county to his vote supporting the Minier bill. "As an assemblyman of the First district," Assemblyman Mueller writes, "I would not vote against a bill of this nature. If I should do so, I would vote against my own interest and that of all the farmers I represent in the legislature. This bill has passed the assembly with the overwhelming vote of 75 to 9."

The bill referred to by Mr. Mueller is known on the calendar as Bill No. 7-A. It provides that milk or milk derivatives shall not be used in the manufacture of margarine. This is to prevent imparting a butter flavor to margarine, which is done by introducing milk or milk derivatives, more or less ripened with the aid of favor forming bacteria, into animal or vegetable oils after these have been converted into odorless, tasteless compounds by a process of purification. After the purification process the oils could not be mistaken for butter, but the addition of the milk flavors produces that effect. The Minier bill, unlike others that provide for absolute prohibition of oleomargarine manufacture, is merely regulatory. Mr. Mueller points out:

MEDITATION—Jesus Christ embodied in his life and teachings the supreme purpose of God for men. The law and the prophets found fulfillment in him. Henceforth men need not search in vain to know what is right. They are to "look to Jesus" and to shape their lives by him. "To recognize in Jesus of Nazareth the Son of God, the Saviour of mankind, is to receive a pledge of the absolute and unchangeable help of God in bearing all burdens, in meeting all temptations, in solving all human problems. To 'know Christ' is to come into living relationship with help inexhaustible. The moral vigor, the confident assurance, the unquenchable hope are begotten by this firm faith. Look up, then, with eager expectancy to Jesus Christ, Son of man and Son of God. The representative Man on earth."

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid-Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

SPRING MAY BE HERE BUT HANDS GET TOO COLD TO PLAY BALL

Saturday may be the first day of spring, but Appleton boys aren't waiting until Saturday to get in baseball practice. Late Thursday afternoon, in the midst of the snowstorm, a group of boys on North Division st. enjoyed one of the early games. The pitcher had a baseball mit on one hand, and on the other a canvas glove to keep it warm. Marbles and roller skates were among the first signs of approaching spring, but these have been discarded in favor of bat and ball, it would seem.

FORUM LISTENS TO TALK ON PROCESS OF MAKING BRICK

Handwork More Efficient Than Machinery in Making Fire Brick

B. B. Guenther, expert of the Harrison-Walker Refractories Co., of Chicago, led discussion on Furnace Linings and Fire Brick at the meeting of the Industrial Forum Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. A large crowd attended the meeting and took part in the discussion which followed. The meeting ran thirty minutes overtime.

Mr. Guenther opened the meeting by explaining the group of lantern slides which he had brought especially for the occasion. He showed the process of making fire brick from taking the clay from the mines through the grinding, moulding, drying and burning process. He also showed the machines employed for moulding and shaping.

He said most of the moulding and shaping of brick is done by hand because better results are achieved, especially with fire brick. In fire brick where special shapes are used and great accuracy is required the hand work is much more efficient than machine work. The employees in the factory become very skillful at this work and soon are able to tell the amount of water needed in a brick by feeling of the clay.

Mr. Guenther exhibited a brick which was improperly mixed in the factory and showed its condition when it was subjected to a hard test. A brick properly combined stood up under the test, while the other crumbled away or warped. In the discussion and question which followed the talk, Mr. Guenther took up most of the time in explaining the best kind of fire brick to use in an oil burner heating furnace in answer to a question by one of the audience.

BASEBALL MEN PROFIT FROM 18TH AMENDMENT

A new poster of the group being placed in the lobby of the men's division of the Y. M. C. A. by the Intercollegiate Prohibition association in defense of prohibition and urging the ousting of the bootlegger, was put up this week.

The poster contains a picture of "Bucky" Harris, manager of the Washington American league baseball team, scoring his home run in the final game of the world series on Oct. 10, 1924 and the statement of Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American Association Baseball League, on the subject of prohibition. He said, "Prohibition has been the greatest blessing baseball ever enjoyed. The passing of the saloon increased our patronage wonderfully. Regardless of the merits of the eighteenth amendment, it is a great business booster for the United States."

BERG REPRESENTS KOLL IN ASSAULT, BATTERY CASE

The date for the trial of Joseph Kuehl, charged with assaulting August Koll has not been set. The case was scheduled for Municipal court on Wednesday but was postponed because Kuehl was not legally represented.

Theodore Berg now is appearing for Koll and he and P. J. Rooney, attorney for the defense will confer and set a date for the trial in the near future.

CLOSE HIGHWAY 15 NEAR FOND DU LAC IN SUMMER

Fond du Lac—Bids are to be opened March 18 on the federal highway project stretching from Fond du Lac city north three and a half miles toward Oshkosh on Route 15. The nine foot pavement is to be replaced with eighteen and twenty foot concrete.

Three bad curves in North Fond du Lac will be eliminated through purchase of private property by the county. Highway 15 between this city and Oshkosh will be closed to travel during part of the summer.

Cross Eyes Straightened

Over 25 years ago I began to specialize in the straightening of cross eyes. In this work I have developed and perfected a system that makes results so certain that I truthfully state "No need to hesitate. Your cross eyes can be straightened." My records now show over

6,000 SUCCESSFUL CASES FROM MAINE TO CALIFORNIA

Many of these, learning of my reputation from others whose eyes I have straightened, have come thousands of miles to have me relieve them of the awful disfiguring blight of cross eyes. And when they came, they were amazed that these marvelous results were secured usually in one visit, with no hospital stay. Don't take my word alone for this, and for list of recent successful cases, perhaps some are from your city. The following are a few: C. Gallenberger, 125 S. Oakland, Green Bay; Richard Peterson, 917 McDonald-St., Green Bay; Henry Thomas, 701 Jackson-St., Wausau; Miss M. Henzler, 609 Monroe-St., Ft. Atkinson; Herman Brau, 1330 Geely, Sheboygan; John Lang, 1431 7th-St., Oshkosh; Mrs. A. Crippie, 605 2nd-St., Milwaukee. Call or write to them—let them tell you of the happiness, the better looks, the better eyesight they now enjoy because I straightened their eyes. Parents—save your child's eyesight, save their endless embarrassment, by having their cross eyes straightened.

Send me a description of your case. If I accept it, I will provide a special excursion, FREE FARE to Chicago. Ask for details.

Here Is Way To Learn A Hymn A Week

A plan by which school children and citizens of Appleton may become familiar with hymns was presented by Carl J. Waterman, dean of Lawrence conservatory of Music, at a supper at the First Congregational church recently. While no church or organization has adopted the plan, it has been much discussed.

Mr. Waterman suggested that the words of familiar hymns, used in all churches and conflicting with no faiths, be printed in the advertisements published by the churches each week. These hymns then could be sung in the churches and Sunday schools the following Sunday and in the schools and religious education classes during the week.

In this manner a hymn could be taught each week and Appleton and county residents would soon know the songs that are sung in the majority of churches.

KEEP STATE BOARD, HEILIG DECLARES

H. H. Heilig, director of the vocational school, and Hugh G. Corbett, secretary of the chamber of commerce were among those from Appleton in Madison Wednesday afternoon to attend the hearing on bill 445-S, which would cut the number of state boards from 70 to 20.

Mr. Heilig was one of a group of vocational school officials from various parts of Wisconsin who objected to abolishment of the state vocational education board. These men declared that vocational schools are as much separate from the regular education system of the various cities as the university and normal schools and that supervision should not be placed with some other body with divergent interests.

Objection also was raised to the revision plan by others because it would abolish the state examining board for public accountants.

No one appeared before the committee on education and public welfare to oppose the plan itself, because there is a general belief that it has merit. The only opposition comes from boards that want to remain intact.

Statistics were presented to show that other states had saved hundreds of thousands and even millions of dollars by more efficient conduct of the state's affairs. Senator W. A. Titus, author of the bill, was present at the hearing to explain the purpose of the measure.

ILL HEALTH FORCES TRUSTEE TO RESIGN

Frank T. Dittmer was appointed trustee in the estate of the late F. R. Dittmer to take the place of Mrs. Emily Dittmer by Fred V. Heinemann, county judge. Mrs. Dittmer was forced to give up the position because of ill health.

Have You Piles?

Then You Have Something to Learn

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was first to find the remedy. His prescription HEM-ROID, is now sold by all druggists. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in 1000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent and then decided it should be sold under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Schlitz Bros. today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and should do the same for you—it seldom fails.

FACE TRUTH IF YOU SUSPECT PLAGUE

Free Chest Clinic Is for Purpose of Finding Incipient Cases of Tuberculosis

"Have you any reason to suspect you may have tuberculosis? If so, don't hide your head in the sand and pretend you haven't in the hope that your fears may not be true." This is the warning issued by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, which will conduct a free chest clinic at the Playhouse of Appleton Women's club on March 27 and 28. The clinic is held from 8:30 in the morning until 5 o'clock each day.

The policy of refusing to face the truth is a most dangerous one in tuberculosis, declare the clinic physicians, for much depends upon early discovery. If a patient has tuberculosis, delay in diagnosis and proper treatment can only lessen the chances of recovery, while if he has not tuberculosis a clinic examination can only affirm this happy fact. Tuberculosis is a curable disease, but the chances of a cure are, of course, greatest when the disease is in its early stages.

To discover the disease in these stages is one of the main purposes of the free chest clinic, which is in reality a discovery clinic. Such cases cannot be found unless the public co-operates, and in order that the best possible cooperation may be secured, the most obvious of the danger signals of tuberculosis are pointed out: Fatigue, lack of vitality, loss of appetite and weight, indigestion, afternoon fever, vague pains in the chest, and a persistent cough or cold. Persons who have had contact with

MILLER WITHDRAWS BILL CUT STRENGTH OF GUARD

A. M. Miller, assemblyman from the second Outagamie-co district, has withdrawn his bill, introduced in the Wisconsin legislature, to cut the national guard appropriation to $200,000 annually and reduce the guard's strength from 5,000 to 3,500 men. His action followed the passage of the senate bill fixing the appropriation at $245,000 annually and maintaining the present strength.

RAILROAD RECEIVERSHIP
We think there will be general agreement among the security holders of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway as to the advisability of the application for receivership. The financial struggle of the St. Paul has gone over such a long period as to demonstrate the hopelessness of its existing status. Its inability to meet fixed charges is so well established as to demand reorganization in the interest of both security holders, employees and the public. Whether the Pacific coast extension alone is the cause of the disaster which has overtaken this railroad, or whether it is due to a combination of causes, is beside the point now. Existing conditions must be faced and when obligations become due which banks are unwilling to take care of and which the company cannot, there is but one alternative,
and that is a receivership.

The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul is a splendid property. Before adversity overtook it it was one of the best railroads in the United States, from a physical, operative and earning standpoint. Undoubtedly there is a way to bring it back to something like its original prosperity.
It is proposed to make a drastic reduction of capital stock, which aggregates more than $700,000,000. This will apparently entail loss to security-holders, but it can make their position no worse than it now is. On the contrary, it ought to improve the value of the security over a term of years, for as things are now going it is steadily declining in value, whereas under a reorganization, with losses which have already accrued taken, there should be a prospect of putting the road on a paying basis.

Among the railroad properties in recent years which have been on the rocks was the Pere Marquette system of Michigan. Its difficulties were partly due to over-capitalization, to absorption of non-paying feeders, and to attempts to get terminal facilities in Chicago and the east.
It was in even worse condition, relatively speaking than the St. Paul, yet after going through a number of receiverships, it was finally reorganized and put on its feet, and today it is prospering. The St. Paul may or may not be watered, as that term is commonly understood, but it certainly is over-capitalized so far as it is supported by earning power. Undoubtedly the reorganization will take care of this situation and reduce the capital to a point where earnings will be sufficient to more than pay fixed charges.

The St. Paul holdings are widely distributed and many persons have lost money on both its stock and bonds. Some of them have held on to their certificates over a long term of years in the hope that fallen values would some day be recovered.
Wisconsin has much to gain or lose by the future of the St. Paul. Its large investments in the state, with its payroll, service and number of men employed,
have an important and direct relationship to our prosperity. We therefore have a considerable interest in the receivership and the outcome of whatever reorganization may be determined upon. It is safe to assume, we think, that there will be a genuine concern for the welfare of the property and its security holders, and that the solution of the problem will be in the hands of capable men.

WHAT FILIBUSTERS DID
The excuse presented for the filibuster is that it offers opportunities for saving the country from an occasional piece of hastily considered legislation, and gives the minority a chance to swing opinion.

Mr. Dawes attacked it because it defeated the purpose of efficient legislation by the majority. The best way to measure the weight of the two opinions is to read off
the actual roll of the filibuster's doubtful
"achievements."

Here are the measures killed by threatened filibuster in the Sixty-eighth congress:

Muscle Shoals bill; Pepper-McFadden
banking bill; railroad consolidation bill;
departmental reorganization bill; public buildings bill; statute codification bill;
Cape Cod canal bill; bill for civil service
classification of prohibition agents.

It is said any of these measures could have had a majority if brought to vote.
What great peril to the nation's welfare
lay hidden in these bills?

Back in the Sixty-seventh congress the ship subsidy was talked to death, and hours taken by filibustering prevented passage of the Rogers foreign service bill.
Time is proving the ship subsidy could hardly have been costlier than the policy adopted. The Rogers bill was passed by the next congress, so that the country wasn't saved there. About the only bill of the sixty-seventh session rightfully held up by the filibuster was the Dyer antilynching bill; and even in that case the filibuster was unnecessary, since the principal argument against the bill was that it was unconstitutional and hence futile. It would have been ruled out anyway, if this argument was correct, by the supreme court.

Just previous to the World war even
the army appropriation bill failed by filibuster, along with the armed ship bill.
Woodrow Wilson then issued his famous statement that "the senate of the United States is the only legislative body in the world which cannot act when its majority is ready for action."

This power of acting when action seems best and the minds of most senators are made up of is far greater importance than the granting of power to pompous, nagging or fanatical men to defeat the will of the minority, even if very occasionally they happen to be right. The filibuster is condemned by its own record.

A NEW CYCLE
It seems only a little while ago when the first young men who had not served in the Civil War began to come to Congress.
They were invaders of the rule that all offices, elective and appointive, must go to the veterans, and were the harbingers of a new generation.
Now the last of the veterans, General Isaac Sherwood, says his valedictory, and the Civil War disappears from the public life of the nation.
It is the end of an age, which began in heroism, exaltation and graft, descended into sordidness, intolerance and barrenness of soul, expanded into great material progress, and culminated, morally and politically, in the Roosevelt era.

Then came let-down, partial recovery,
the exaltation of the great war and the spiritual collapse that followed—and the last of the veterans survived only to see the first and most discouraging stages of the long cycle through which his own generation had also gone.
Perhaps, having lived through it once,
he is equipped to look with more charity
than the rest of us on its cyclic repetition.

TODAY'S POEM

TRAFFIC.
SAY, look where you're going, yes, look where you step. In crossin' the highways you've gotta show pep. There ever is something that's headin' your way because of the traffic that's rollin' today.
With folks that are drivin' it's now come to pass that ever one's wantin' to step on the gas. The man who is walkin' is wise if he feels that he's gotta look out for the automobile.
There once was a day when the streets were at loss for something to kinder the folks who would cross. We went from one side to the other, shy fear, 'cause all of the highways and byways were clear.
But only a memory is thought of that kind. How different today are the things that we find. The old horseless carriage just planted the seed that grew into madness and craving for speed.
The world moves along, is what people will say,
and it's moving much faster and faster each day
through the speed. In less time we arrive, but we'd better slow down so's to get there alive.

tainly to health. Writer's names are never

HAS THE CHILD ADENOIDS?
Every doctor who deals with children should use the head mirror and the nasal speculum as a routine part of the examination. If this were the rule there would be fewer unsuccessful operations for the removal of adenoids and tonsils. This was the observation made by William A. Krieger, M. D., F.
A. C. S., an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, in a paper presented at the annual meeting of the New York State Medical Society.
Dr. Krieger criticized the practice in the ordinary clinic. In the clinic, he said, much time is spent in child hygiene, careful attention is given to weight; minute directions are provided as to diet;
the tongue depressor is in constant use; but in few,
very few, will you find a routine examination of the nose. If a child has any difficulty whatsoever in breathing, it is immediately marked for removal of the tonsils and adenoids, regardless of any infection that may be in the nose or paranasal sinuses.
This is particularly noticeable, this specialist declared, in the examinations given by welfare workers.
When, as is often the case, there is some underlying nasal or sinus infection, the removal of enlarged tonsils or adenoids very likely fails to clear up the head trouble. On the other hand, Dr. Krieger has often observed that enlarged tonsils and adenoids diminish and return to normal after a nasal or sinus infection has been cleared up by treatment. Many children are marked for ton-sill and adenoid operation when a proper examination shows that they have no adenoid hypertrophy
but only some infection in the nose or paranasal sinus. Proper treatment of this condition restores normal breathing and normal health. But Dr.
Krieger did not in any way discredit the tonsil and adenoid operations which are so often necessary.

The presence of kernels (enlarged lymph nodes or "glands") in the neck, cervical adenitis as physicians say, and pharyngitis (soreness in the throat) are, in Dr. Krieger's opinion, sign posts pointing to the seat of the real trouble, nasal or paranasal infection. The saying "catarrhal conditions associated with adenoids," should be "adenoid or lymphatic or hypertrophy associated with nasal infection," Dr. Krieger suggests.
This Poughkeepsie specialist said a lot of surprising things in his paper. For instance he believed it extremely important to listen to the parent's description of the child's symptoms and actions. Frequently a child will describe headaches almost to the letter as Sluder describes them in his book
"Headaches and Eye Disorders of Nasal Origin."
The nose seems to be the last thing to be considered. Many times glasses are put on children with headaches when both the headaches and the impaired vision are caused by neglected nasal infection.

Poughkeepsie is not far from Albany, headquarters of the health department of New York. Dr.
Krieger had better beware—the welfare workers conference will silence him if he don't watch out.
Articles such as his are deplorable, because they tend to make some doctors hesitate about rushing the youngsters off to the clinic to have their tonsils and presumable adenoids taken out. Then, too, school teachers, school nurses, and other amateurs who can deduce adenoids from a mere glance
at the child's expression, will never vote to elect Dr. Krieger to the senate.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
How Will You Have Your Eggs?
Are two raw eggs taken each morning and evening beneficial to one with a weak constitution?
(Mrs. B. E.)
Answer—They are if one prefers them raw, but I think if my constitution were weak I should want my eggs either fried or poached. Even a hard boiled egg is more digestible than a raw egg. Something like a ferment in raw egg albumin prevents complete digestion. A hard boiled egg is as digestible as an egg cooked any other way, provided it is taken grate or finely broken up, or if one is able to chew them masticated. Cooking the egg, other things being equal, makes it somewhat more nourishing, since it can be more completely digested when cooked. The fact that raw eggs are readily administered in various fluids or in liquid form to invalids who will not or cannot eat, accounts for the fancy that there is some peculiar mysterious nutritive or strength giving virtue in raw eggs.

Florida Points To Tax Laws Of Wisconsin As Unfair To Industry

Madison — "I saw the fair name of Wisconsin singled out and held up for ridicule as a horrible example of the curse of high taxes. In a recent article in the St. Petersburg (Fla.) Times," writes M. G. Jeffris, a former well known Jacksonville attorney, in an open letter addressed to Governor Fiske and members of the Wisconsin legislature, written from Clearwater, Florida.

Stressing the point that without profit business dies, and without business a state stagnates, Mr. Jeffris sounds a warning against misleading statistics compiled by politicians, then explains what Florida is doing to attract wealthy residents from Wisconsin and other tax-burdened states. His letter follows in full:

Clearwater, Fla.
"To the Governor and Members of the Legislature of Wisconsin.
"Gentlemen: I am here spending the winter on account of my health. I feel impelled to make some move for the benefit of Wisconsin. I do not feel well enough to give any time to writing a careful or finished letter but will content myself in setting down some suggestions in a haphazard manner. While neither my motive nor my personal views may be of any interest to you, yet I desire to inform you that I have no motive except the welfare of the state of Wisconsin. There are no partisan politics involved. I have never had much to do with politics in a personal way and I am out of politics forever. I have no interest in any Wisconsin manufacturing enterprise. My interests in Wisconsin are almost entirely in real estate. Such personal interest as I may have is one of land values. Land values are largely influenced by the general welfare of a state and, therefore, I am from a selfish standpoint interested in the welfare of Wisconsin. I also have a deeper feeling but men are generally charged with having some selfish motive.

WANTS WISCONSIN TO PROSPER

"My selfish motive is that Wisconsin may prosper in all lines so that Wisconsin property may advance in value rather than fall back. I would not have written this letter but for the fact that the St. Petersburg Times a few days ago under a heading 'States Bearing Heavier Levees' said Florida promises, by vote of the people, never to tax incomes or inheritances. Thus a cordial welcome is extended to rich folk to move in and make themselves at home. Meanwhile Wisconsin and other western states bear more and more heavily upon wealth, both productive and nonproductive. The article then goes on to set forth the advantages of living and doing business in Florida on account of taxes—but Wisconsin is the only state picked by name to hold up as a horrible example. This irritated me because it picked on my home state and because I am compelled to admit the truth of the charge. Or income tax is excessive on manufacturers and our inheritance taxes are an outrage upon fairness. Why should not the income tax upon earned income be made 1½ per cent even to corporations with a deduction of taxes paid on both personal and real property. This would encourage manufacturing in Wisconsin. I think Massachusetts has such a rate.

"Why should not inheritance taxes be cut in two in Wisconsin or allow a deduction from the amount of the Wisconsin tax, at least of all paid for federal inheritance tax? Why should not there be some relief to non-resident holders of Wisconsin stock? Why should not relief be afforded in both these taxes, not only to residents but non-residents? In that way we can not only keep our factories and our wealth but induce others to come to the state. We can levy taxes but we cannot compel industries or men to stay and pay them, and we cannot induce others to come in and pay them. In a way our state is in competition with other states. Like merchants we must show inducements to hold our business and draw new customers as residents. Profits make the life blood of business—business makes the life blood of a state or nation. Without profits business dies. Without business a state stagnates. Already we have lost both business and wealth by our tax laws. Do not let any compilation of other manufacturers who are considering leaving the state and a number of men of wealth who are considering a change in their residence. Manufacturers have refused to establish in Wisconsin because of our tax laws. Do not let any compilation of statistics by politicians mislead you—business men know. Tell them to take their statistics to business men in and out of Wisconsin and convince them that Wisconsin laws are not burdensome.

OREGON REPEALED INCOME LAW

"Oregon tried an income tax law and found that it was retarding the state and repealed it. The people of Michigan at the last election voted down an income tax law. Florida at the last election adopted a constitutional amendment forever prohibiting income and inheritance taxes. In yesterday's paper it told of thousands of safety deposit boxes rented here and that lawyers are busy advising people how to become citizens of Florida. The papers are telling of piling up bank deposits. Land is fairly jumping in value. City lots are selling at what seems to me to be ridiculous prices. I do not feel that anything warrants the present price of city lots all over the state. There is bound to be a slump. No one claims that the tax laws are responsible for all this but they are one of the contributing causes. Papers all over the country are advertising Florida for its stand on taxes and they are adversely advertising Wisconsin on the same score. A Kentucky paper speaking on the Florida amendment after commending it at length says 'It was a great advertising scheme that Florida adopted its constitutional amendment. It is working out just like it was planned and it won't be long before it will be impossible to turn a corner on any street in any town in Florida without running into a millionaire who has dodged high taxes by becoming a resident of that state.' That does not sound altogether nice but we must acknowledge the fact that men will escape taxes when possible just as they will buy of the merchant who sells at the lowest.

"A manufacturer will carry on his business where he can do the best for himself. I think Wisconsin stood seventh in manufacturing only a few years ago and at the last report stood ninth and still slipping. This is going to hurt farmers and labor of Wisconsin as well as every citizen of the state—high and low—rich or poor. A member of the Michigan legislature in a recent speech spoke of what Florida had done and commended the act and said the same principal held good in Michigan and that it would attract capital—that other state would be delighted to get some of the big enterprises that are making Michigan prosperous and that Michigan while far from Florida yet it was not too far away to furnish an illustration of the public temper and provide an example of sound policy. At a meeting of the National Association of Real Estate Boards in convention at Dallas, Tex., was adopted a report on taxation in which was said Florida made a telling bid for wealth when she passed constitutional amendments forbidding the legislature from enacting either income or inheritance tax laws. Is it any wonder with this kind of advertising for Florida going on throughout the country, and Wisconsin getting the other kind, manufacturers have left and others are going and wealth has left and more is going and little or none coming in? STATE EXPENSES TOO HEAVY

"Our large and splendid dairy interests are industries themselves and are interested in getting and retaining other manufacturing in Wisconsin. Every dollar paid by a manufacturer saves other interests from paying that dollar—but remember the fate of the man who squeezed the goose which laid the golden eggs to make it lay more eggs. State expenses are too heavy—too many employees—too many boards, commissioners, committees, supervisors, examiners, investigators, etc., etc. I hear that there is talk of another building to house departments. Already thousands of acres of land have been abandoned to taxes and more thousands will go this year. Is it not time for some one to interest himself in ways to cut taxes rather than in ways to pile up more taxes. Wisconsin has a better summer climate than Florida has winter.

"For one desiring or compelled to stay in one place twelve months in the year Wisconsin far surpasses Florida. Our climate is better, our soil infinitely richer, our water better, our state far more beautiful and healthful. Delaware by a liberal policy has attracted thousands of corporations to make their home in that state. Florida, Michigan, Oregon and other states are looking in that direction. In Wisconsin many things have been done to frighten away enterprise, business and capital and throw labor out of employment and drive it to leave the state. Much more could be said and far better said—but enough.

"Very truly yours,
"M. G. JEFFRIS."

WILLIAMS CONFERS ON CONTEST WORK

Aubrey Williams, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work, Madison, arrived in Appleton Friday morning to hold a series of meetings during the day with committees in the better cities contest. He expected to speed up the work of making the surveys connected with the contest, by clearing up doubtful questions and examining those matters with which committees were having difficulties.

The library committee met at 10:30 Friday morning at the library and the recreation group at 2:15 in the afternoon at the chamber of commerce rooms. Other meetings scheduled are: Health and welfare committees, 3:30; religion and education, 4:45; public administration and city planning, 7:30. This latter group is at the chamber offices.

Each committee will be asked to finish its survey within the next week or two, as the editorial committee must compile all the data into a comprehensive brief before June 1, when the prize of $1,000 will be awarded to the city which is the best in which to live.

815 KILLED, 3,000 HURT IN MIDWESTERN TORNADO

varying from a mile to five miles in length develop on the edges of the cyclone and cause damage by their violent movement.

As relief measures got under way, stories of the almost unprecedented misery in the storm swept area came in from all points. Temporary morgues and hospitals were filled to overflowing while frantic men, women and children searched the long lines of dead for missing dear ones. In some instances doctors performed major operations out of doors or in roofless buildings without the aid of anesthetics. Paralysis of gas light and water facilities in some towns added to the discomfort and confusion and through a second night of horror, relief workers had only candles and lanterns to guide their efforts of mercy. No food shortage exists, however, the red cross at St. Louis announces.

FAMILIES WIPED OUT

The disaster fell largely on persons of limited means some out of work because of the shut down of coal fields. Many women and children and a score of babies appeared on the death lists. Entire families were wiped out. One man searching through a morgue, for his wife and three children, found the bodies of his babies side by side in one room, his wife in another. Many of the bodies were mangled, scarred or burned, some beyond recognition.

The government, Red Cross, private institutions and individuals combined in the huge task of caring for the injured, giving shelter and hunting bodies, while additional workers and state troops, including medical units were due Friday. Funeral plans had not been made but it was expected that multiple services would be held.

The Indiana relief measures were going forward rapidly under the direction of Governor Ed. Jackson. Of five towns struck in that state, Griffin, a Posey-co village, suffered most. With 47 bodies recovered, it was believed the death list might mount to 125. Griffin virtually was wiped out and systematic work at rescue was held up for a time because few were left uninjured in the village. Military lines have been drawn about the entire area.

WILL DESTROYED

At Princeton, which counted 20 dead, the $2,000,000 shops of the Southern railway were destroyed, throwing 400 persons out of work. Most of the homes destroyed were those of workmen. The loss of life undoubtedly would have been larger had it not been for the fact that workers left the railroad shops just a few minutes before the twister struck. The second largest industrial plant in Princeton, also was destroyed.

An eccentricity of the storm was revealed in the case of E. F. Shine, an engineer of the southern railroad who rode his engine through the tornado, receiving only a few scratches. The storm blew the cab from over his head, but he held on. "I saw the storm coming," he said. "It was black as midnight and moving faster than a train."

BEG PARDON

The report in Thursday's Post-Crescent that a jury had awarded a verdict of $299 to the plaintiff in the case of the Greasy Corporation against Henry Honeck was slightly in error. The verdict was directed by Judge Edgar V. Warner who gave the defendant ten days in which to show cause why judgment should not be entered on the verdict.

WOMAN'S SECRET OF BEAUTY

Beauty lies in the care a woman bestows upon herself and in keeping at bay those dread ailments peculiar to her sex, which drag her down and leave telltale traces upon her countenance. Sparkling eyes, the elastic step and a clear complexion never accompany organic troubles. Distressed expressions, a hollow complexion, dark circles under the eyes, insatiable headaches and mental depression are the telltale symptoms of women's ailments. Women so troubled should not lose a day in taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, the most successful remedy known to overcome woman's ills and restore health and beauty. adv.

On Specifications and Performance

In Electric Cleaners, as in cars, you will find tremendous differences in ability. One vacuum cleaner may be puny, always working at the limit of its capacity, yet barely doing its job. Another, full-bodied and strong, races thru the same cleaning task with ease, and always has "a little something" over for the unusual demand.

That is why the Hamilton-Beach was built larger, strong with the power of its full 1-6 H. P. motor; bigger we believe, than that in any other comparable cleaner. With a reserve power so great that its capacity is but little taxed by the usual cleaning of rugs and carpets. This explains the acknowledged long life and freedom from service trouble that the Hamilton-Beach gives.

COUNCIL ALLOWS 25 PROTESTS ON ILLEGAL TAXES

Same Number Is Rejected—Time for Filing Further Claims Has Expired

Special to the Post-Crescent
New London—Twenty-five of the fifty tax protests filed with the city clerk this year, were allowed by the city council at its meeting Tuesday evening of this week.

In all of the 25 cases, the allowances were made only because there was an error in the assessment, or due to the misinformation on the part of the assessor. None were allowed because those making the protests thought that they had been over-assessed. None of the remaining protests will be allowed, and no new ones can be made for the past year.

The assessments will be made next May and June, and all those having protests for next year will be forced first to make their claim before the board of review, which convenes in July.

KAUKAUNA MAN GETS ANOTHER ROAD CONTRACT

Kaukauna—Joseph McCarty Construction company of this city has been awarded another contract for road paving in Pennsylvania. The first contract covered about four miles of concrete work and involved about $190,000. The project, located in Union City, was recently completed.

STAGE And SCREEN

SECRETS OF THE NIGHT

It is said for "Secrets of the Night" Universal-Jewel coming to the Elite theatre Saturday and Sunday, an adaptation of Guy Bolton and Max Marston's stage success, "The Night-cap," that its treatment makes it more closely resemble a stage play than generally is the case when stage hits are screened. Herbert Blaché directed. James Kirkwood and Madge Bellamy are the featured players in the all star, others of whom are Zasu Pitts, Rosemary Thoby, Otto Hoffman, Tom Ricketts, Tom S. Guise, Tom Wilson, Joseph Singleton and Arthur Stewart Hull.

"THE GREAT DIVIDE" ONE OF YEAR'S BIGGEST FILMS
Reginald, Barker directed "The Great Divide," which comes to the Elite theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. It is one of the outstanding successes of the American stage and is one of the largest productions on the 1924-25 Metro-Goldwyn program.

The picture for the most part was filmed in Arizona, the locale of the romance.

Mr. Barker was particularly pleased with the assignment, for he was stage director for Henry Miller when the latter triumphed in the William Vaughn Moody play, and ever since he entered motion pictures he has wanted to present it on the screen.

After considering a number of prominent men and women for the two leading roles, Alice Terry and Conway Tearle were selected. They represent the ideal types for the roles of Ruth Jordan and Stephen Ghent, and are worthy of carrying successfully two such prominent and significant parts.

Waldemar Young wrote the continuity and others in the cast are Wallace Beery, Huntly Gordon, Zasu

Pitts, Allan Forrest and Ford Sterling. Cedric Gibbons was art director "The Great Divide" is presented by Louis B. Mayer.

TOM MIX BRINGS

ZANE GREY'S STORY
"TO LIVE ON SCREEN"

A capacity house saw the first showing of Tom Mix in "The Last of the Duanees" at the New Bijou theatre yesterday. This production, with the famous William Fox star, is a picture of Zane Grey's tale of the same name with scenes laid in Texas in the days of border outlaws. Tom Mix never has been seen to better advantage in a western character role than in his portrayal of Buck Duane, son of a feudist. This young Texan refuses to fight until forced to kill a man in self-defense. He then becomes an outlaw until, through the love of a girl, he receives a pardon on condition that he help clean up a leading band of cattle thieves.

Marian Nixon, as the girl, is fine, both as an actress and as a feast for one's eyes. Tom Mix should keep this leading lady in his pictures, for she is a splendid complement to the Western star.

APPLETON THEATRE VAUDEVILLE

If cost means anything, Fischers Appleton Theatre will have the best bill of the season this coming Sunday, announces Manager Louis Lutz, for it is the most expensive vaudeville bill which has played at the theatre during his management. Hearing the bill is the "Pirate Revue," a novelty revue that is very different. The act consists of a series of fast dances showing various styles of Gypsy and other character dances. The girls are all young and good looking and give a performance that is full of life and go. The act is well staged, the setting being the interior of a cave. Then we have the Shannons' Playtime Frolics, which is a genuine novelty in vaudeville featuring a father and his two talented daughters. "Child prodigy" is a very much abused term, as it is natural for many parents to be elated when they have exceptionally clever children. But if there were ever children possessed of unusual acrobatic attainments they are the Shannons. They romp through a program replete with acrobatic novelties, assisted by their father. While he is a clever performer, the children show all indications of surpassing his endeavors in the near future. Henderson and Weber the two harmony boys from Songland will render some pleasing hits and last but not least Moore and Horton in a comedy skit are sure to raise the roof. On the same program is the idol of millions, Bebe Daniels in a peppy and appealing role in "Dangerous Money" supported by Tom Moore.

WANT STATE PRISONERS TO MAKE LICENSE PLATES

Madison—Manufacturers of automobile license plates, road markers and highway signs by the Wisconsin State prison instead of using privately manufactured products in this line, is contemplated by the provisions of a bill introduced in the Wisconsin legislature by the senate committee on state and local government. This bill would take from the secretary of state all jurisdiction of the issuance of automobile license and place the work in the hands of the state board of control.

The bill amends the law relating to the scope of prison industries and would extend the business of manufacturing such signs, markers and plates to permit the state board of control to find out-of-the-state market for such products in addition to intrastate market.

In fixing the price of the license plates, signs and markers, under the bill, there would be taken into consideration a valuation on labor of $1.75 per day per man engaged in such work at the prison. Of this amount twenty-five cents per day would go to the worker or to his assigns.

ADVICE TO THE LOVE LOST

Copyright by the S. R. O. Service

Dear Aunt Rhoda: For eight years I have been going with a girl in my home town until three years ago when I came here to college. Last year she followed me here . . . at least I thought so, but she says not.

During my few years here I have become very interested in the bigger and better things in life, something that really might prepare a man for the battle as it is sometimes familiarly called, of life later on . . . really important things such as auditing and the higher business courses. They are really interesting—and after all why take useless courses when you can take something that will help you later on?

But Helen (that's her name) is taking courses in the conservatory, and I can't see that that will do us any good later on. She talks a lot about musical terms and authors and I can't see it at all. I wanted her to take something useful like domestic science, and I told her so and she got mad.

I may not know music, but I know what I like and it hurts me terribly to see a girl going to these operas in foreign languages. If the stories were anywhere decent they'd sing them in English. I told her so but she said that she liked them that way. I'm awfully worried about her future. What shall I do?

Anxious.

Dear Anxious: I really wouldn't worry about Helen, if I were you. Lately girls have been doing a lot of things just because they weren't able to do them before. When she gets to be my age she will change a lot. There is a fashion for saying you like things in a foreign language, and I don't believe Helen can understand a word of it. I know I never could—and I knew Italian as well as any of them. So I really wouldn't worry, everything will turn out all right. Why don't you suggest that she take up cross stitching or embroidery work . . . I know it isn't useful like domestic science, but in my time when they were doing useless things for amusement, they were doing samplers and making quilts. Perhaps if she had something interesting like that you wouldn't have to worry about her going to opera. Do write me again, Anxious.

RURAL SCHOOLS GETTING READY FOR SPRING MEET

Preliminary Contests Ordered to Pick Winners for County Program

Preliminary plans for the Third Annual Outagamie County Field Day which will be held in Appleton on May 29, are being completed by A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools. All rural schools of the county and the two departmental state graded schools are eligible for the meet. In order to do away with the last minute hurry and trouble which was experienced last year several preliminary tryouts will be held in advance. Each school must hold preliminary tryouts on or before May 13, after which entrants for the county contest will be determined by contests in each town to pick the township representatives, not later than May 15. Reports of entries must be made to Mr. Meating by May 17, so that numbers can be prepared and lists made out and every thing be in readiness to handle the meet quickly.

Two beautiful cups offered by the Appleton Post-Crescent are given to the winners. The Outagamie County Trophy cup goes to the school scoring the most points and the Post-Crescent Trophy cup to the individual high point scorer. The school cup is a traveling trophy, kept by the winning school each year and going to the school winning it for three successive years. The cup now is held by Osborn school, District No. 1, and this group expects to put up a strong bid for it this year.

A parade of pupils of all the schools will be held in the downtown district before the contest. The place of the meet has not yet been determined.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

REO AIDS PROGRAM FOR ASSIMILATION OF ALIEN WORKERS

Factory Workers All Are Natives or Naturalized and Speak English

Most recent immigration laws produced by the legislature mill of the United States have been condemned by many as acts liable to offend the people of other nations. At least in spirit, however, they are admitted to be worthy measures for one of their chief aims is, not to bar the foreign born from America, but to admit them only in such numbers as can be assimilated into American life.

Among the principal advantages to be gained by the people of foreign lands who come to this country are higher standards of living and greater opportunities for education. It seems, though, that these advantages are gained only when the immigrants actually become a part of the American community.

Where they band together in colonies, speak their native tongues, and continue to live according to the same standards they were accustomed to before setting out to find their new homes, the greatest of the advantages are lost to them.

It is true, however, that many of the immigrants have their greatest opportunity for contact with Americans in the form of standards through their work, the companies they work for, and the men and women they work with. Unless, in places of employment, they learn to like American customs and the American ways of living, they are apt to never take kindly to the social forces that would make them Americans.

In the shops of the Reo Motor Car Company at Lansing, Michigan, this responsibility has been recognized, and for the past seven years an extensive naturalization and, to use an overworked word, Americanization program has been carried on.

In reality there is a low percentage of foreign born workmen in the Reo plant. Of all the shop employees, 83.1 per cent were born in the United States and 5.3 per cent in other countries known as English speaking. Only 1.6 per cent of the Reo workmen were born in countries where the predominant language is not English.

Of this 8.6 per cent of every one has either become a citizen of the United States or has taken out the first papers leading to citizenship. All of them have adopted American customs of living standards and all of them have learned or are learning the English language. They are loyal and faithful employees, respected by their fellow workmen and by the community as a whole. Between 65 and 70 per cent of all Reo employees own their own homes or are buying them, and many of the home owners are foreign born.

In this connection it is interesting to know that 65.6 per cent of the Reo shop employees were born in Michigan. Thirty-seven states are named on the record as birthplaces of Reo workmen. Ohio, New York, Indiana, and Illinois following after Michigan in the matter of numbers.

OLDSMOBILE USES HEAVIEST PLATING

New Method Produces Nickel Coating of Great and Even Thickness

Heavy nickel plating, of a uniformity of thickness never before achieved, is being used on all nickel plated parts on Oldsmobile since the recent installation of a new plating method at the Olds Motor Works, Lansing, Michigan. The new process not only gives a heavier and more uniform plating but also accomplishes innovation in the new method is an endless chain which conveys the articles being plated through the plating tanks at a set speed. This gives each part just the exact time in the plating bath that will give the best results. Heretofore the length of time was gauged by workmen, and was, therefore, subject to human errors.

Parts to be plated come from the presses to the plating room where they are first polished with soft emery on a leather wheel. They then are rinsed in a cleansing solution, after which they are attached to automatic conveyors that carry them through a tank filled with copper plating solution. This copper plating bath consumes 15 minutes and the conveyor is regulated to make one complete circle of the tank in that time.

The parts are then buffed on a cloth wheel, cleaned and given a second copper plating to make sure that all portions are sufficiently well covered. The parts are then rinsed and placed in the nickeling tanks where automatic conveyors make a complete circle of the big tanks in 30 minutes.

Plating by this new and scientific method gives exactly the thickness of nickel required and insures uniform thickness throughout. The possibility of the workman sighting the time of plating when operating on a piece-work basis is entirely eliminated.

Three men using the new equipment can plate a day 300 pieces of each of the eight nickel plated parts on Oldsmobiles—radiator shells, control levers, accelerator pedals, brake levers, lever, late model carburetor choke bodies, radiator hole caps and top holders.

CHEVROLET MAKES UNIQUE PLANT TO BOOST SALE MARK

Six Per Cent Purchase Certificates Are Expected to Aid Salesmen

One of the most unique merchandising plans to be presented in some years by any motor car company was announced by the Chevrolet Motor Company in the fall of last year and is now in effect among their dealers throughout the country.

The new plan, which encourages saving for a car, is called the Chevrolet Six Per Cent Purchase Certificate Plan.

The purchase of cars on time has long enjoyed a wide vogue, following the practice of this payment on commodities of popular consumption in almost every field.

The Chevrolet company has gone a step farther than most companies in the automotive field in that it has made it more worth while for a prospective purchaser to save for a motor car.

Under the Six Per Cent Purchase Certificate Plan, a prospective purchaser buys one of these certificates, pays a minimum down payment as low as $5 and then makes weekly or monthly payments until approximately one third the purchase price of the car has accumulated. The dealer credits the purchaser with 6 per cent toward the purchase of the car on all the money paid on the certificate.

In case the holder of a certificate is placed in a bank in a trustee's fund and is protected by a well known and financially strong insurance company. The fact that the money is insured protects the purchaser of the certificate against all loss.

In case the holder of a certificate already owns a motor car, six per cent of the cost of all the accessories, service and parts purchase from the Chevrolet dealer is credited on the certificate toward the purchase price of the car.

If, at any time, the purchaser of a certificate changes his mind about the purchase of a Chevrolet, he may have all the money he paid in refunded to him.

Never before has a company offered such a very profitable incentive for saving for the purchase of a car.

LINCOLN STANDS UNIQUE TESTING

Agitator Puts Car Through Equivalent of Mile-a-minute Run

The Lincoln division of the Ford Motor Company has devised many unusual tests for Lincoln cars in process of manufacture, but probably the most unique of all is that to which every completed Lincoln is subjected and which is equivalent to driving at the rate of a mile a minute over the roughest of roads.

The test is carried out on what is called an agitator, comprising four wheels mounted below the floor level and spaced to contact with the wheels of the Lincoln. The agitator wheels revolve in unison, but are mounted eccentrically so that a rise and fall of three inches in the circumference takes place as they go round. In addition, there are several large irregular "bump" on each wheel.

After the Lincoln chassis is tested on the factory track at a high rate of speed, it comes back and mounting of the body follows. The completed car is then driven on to the agitator wheels, chained into place, and started on its rough journey.

Assuming most every imaginable position of steering the swaying bounce of the car gradually speeds up to an equivalent of fifty miles an hour. For what would be the first five and a half miles if the car was actually on the road, the expert in charge of the test, using a delicate instrument listens for any irregularities, squeaks or rattles of the body. He then takes the wheel of the car and drives the motor at a rate equal to fifty miles an hour to test the smooth, comfortable riding qualities of the Lincoln.

AUTOMOBILE SHOW IS FRUITFUL FIELD FOR AUTO STUDENTS

Prime Object of Visitors at Salons Is Comparison of Cars

The automobile shows offer a fruitful field to the man who studies the motor car industry. This is not only because practically all makes of cars are displayed there, but because it is a meeting ground for the people who are interested in the actual use of the cars.

It is this big human throng that offers the opportunity to study and to observe.

It is only in the undercurrent of its shrewd questioning that you will find its keynote.

The prime object of the visitors in comparison, and it is very significant to note how big a majority of them have adopted the Buick Valve-in-Head as a basis for this comparison. You will hear them asking such questions as "Is that spring suspension as good as the Buick's?" "Why don't you use a full floating axle like the Buick?" "Has this engine as much power as the Buick Valve-in-Head?"

This is a condition that has existed for a good many years past, but never has it been so pronounced as it is today. It is a condition that naturally results from consistently adhering to definite standards of excellence long enough for the public to become thoroughly acquainted with those standards.

This position, once obtained, must be held by the same means that secured it. There is no royal road to public favor, no divine right for the kings of commerce.

So at the automobile shows you will find the Buick basis for comparison for a large percentage of the visitors, particularly those who have had experience with several makes of cars, including the Buick.

The Buick has become firmly fixed in their minds as the car which has consistently developed over a period of many years.

CHRYSLER ADVISES CITIES TO STUDY DATA ON SMASHUPS

President of Corporation Urges Municipal Planning Commission

In a previous traffic talk I pointed out the need for a city planning commission. In this talk I want to point out how such a commission should proceed, says Walter P. Chrysler, president of the Maxwell-Chrysler Corporation.

To begin with huge maps of the city should be obtained and placed side by side on walls so that the streets and arteries of the city can be seen and studied at a glance.

Secondly counts should be made of pedestrians and motor vehicular and horse-drawn traffic at the busiest points of the street and the density of traffic indicated on the maps by different colors.

Studies should be made to see where the most traffic comes from and where it is going and at what hours it is the densest.

In New York such a study revealed an unusually large number of injuries to children in certain sections of the East Side of New York. The study showed that while there were playgrounds nearby the children preferred to play in the streets. Wisely enough, the police of New York designated certain streets where these accidents took place as play streets and did not permit vehicles of any kind to go on those streets except during certain hours of the early morning for delivery purposes. Immediately the number of accidents in those sections decreased.

Another city in studying a map on which were indicated time and character of accidents discovered that most of the accidents in that city occurred at certain busy corners and during the hours of 5 to 7 Extra traffic officers were stationed at those corners and as a result accidents decreased.

Dodge Brothers sales for 1924 increased more than 25 per cent over 1923. In the face of an 11 per cent decline in the industry as a whole. These facts, considered with the present continued increase, bespeak a most gratifying condition and Dodge Brothers are naturally optimistic.

PIERCE-ARROW AIDS IN TRAFFIC TIEUP

Latest Model Capable of Turning in Narrow City Streets

That motor truck manufacturers are adapting their products to overcome traffic congestion is demonstrated by the new three ton tractor type dump truck which is the most recent addition to the Pierce-Arrow line of dual-valve trucks. Because of its short wheel base, which is nearly three feet shorter than the standard truck, this new tractor type truck can maneuver with ease in narrow city streets and alleys and go into places where the ordinary truck can not turn because of its longer wheel base. This ability to turn in a sort radius will save many minutes of the driver's time besides making for more all-around efficiency.

This new truck, known as tractor type dump truck, has been found useful for the delivery of coal in places where trucks with a longer wheel base find it very difficult to turn.

Another use of the truck is for road building. Equipped with batch boards, the load can be divided into sections and the aggregates delivered directly to the concrete mixer without rehandling, and in proportion to the capacity of the mixer.

The truck is equipped with a hydraulic hoist.

Watch Out for Bedbugs And Other Household Pests.

Even the most careful housekeeper is liable at times to have trouble with some of the numerous household pests such as ants, bedbugs, cockroaches, fleas, flies, moths, rats and mice.

In spite of all precautions these unwelcome visitors frequently get into a house and immediate action must be taken toward their extermination.

Poisoning, trapping, fumigating, and the use of repellents are some of the methods employed. But great care must be taken because some of the most effective ways of destroying these troublesome creatures are dangerous to human beings.

The popular Government booklet "Housecleaning Made Easier," in addition to tell the housewife how to keep her premises clean and orderly all the year round, contains full instructions for eliminating all household pests.

This is a free Government publication and our Washington Information Bureau will secure a copy for any reader who fills out and mails the coupon below, enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage. Be sure your name and address are written plainly.

TIRE MAKERS SEEK TO BENEFIT USERS

Builders Use Best Machinery Principles and Material Available

Tire builders and their engineers are endeavoring to construct automobile tires by means of the best machinery, materials and principles known, so that the public will benefit to the greatest extent possible in the standardization which is taking place in the higher grades. Experiments and tests follow each other closely now as in the past and betterments are constantly being made.

Much is being done now to instruct the public in the proper use of tires. This, a few years ago was found to be absolutely essential as tires then were a little known utility. According to Miller Tire Engineers most of the tire troubles for the average motorist come from his inability to use tires as they should be used, or his ignorance in their correct handling. To this end, countless reams of instructive data are forthcoming from all of the manufacturers of standard tire equipment.

Miller has just brought out a new heavy duty endless rubber flap for pneumatic tires. After thorough trials these flaps were found by the Development Department to be more satisfactory than any flap the engi-

MOST AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS OCCUR THROUGH NEGLIGENCE

Clear Windshield Would Prevent Many Casualties, Schroeder Says

THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE MOTORIST

"If you have ever attended a courtroom trial, resulting from an automobile accident, you have listened to emphatic statements by the parties concerned, as to responsibility states Mr. A. I. Schroeder of Willard Station.

Ask two motorists immediately after a rear-end collision, and you will find a denial on the part of both as to responsibility. The question is "Wherein does the responsibility of the motorist lie?" Surely one or the other is responsible, or perhaps both parties involved in an accident are equally to blame.

The majority of accidents occur through foolish "chance-taking," a desire to beat the other fellow by inches, instead of giving way to the prescribed rules and regulations. In addition a number of accidents occur due to a defective vision on the part of the driver. When driving in wet, stormy weather through sleet, rain or snow, it is of the utmost importance that the windshield be kept perfectly clear. Thousands of motorists however, are attempting to drive safely back of a rain-blurred or snow-crusted windshield. It simply cannot be done. Congested traffic, careless drivers, thoughtless pedestrians and skid-inviting pavements positively do not permit of any chance-taking, particularly in wet weather.

"If each car owner," continues Mr. Schroeder, "will designate himself as a party of one to assume his right of responsibility, which is to take the proper precaution before the accident occurs, the number of accidents will naturally be lessened—if not eliminated entirely."

Dodge Brothers remarkable increase in production and sales continues without interruption, an official statement from the factory discloses.

Actual deliveries by dealers during February were within a few cars of 15,000, which is an increase of 28.7 per cent over deliveries in February, 1924.

Every week in February showed a literal increase over the preceding week and the first week of March likewise exceeded the last week of February.

While dealers' stocks are exceptionally low, the factory is turning out cars in such volume that it is hoped to meet practically the entire current demand. Production for the first week of March was over 1000 cars a day.

Kaukauna Matched With Wausau and Ladysmith in Debate Semi-finals

Nine schools will be grouped in three triangles in the next round of eliminations in the Wisconsin Inter-scholastic Debate league. The contests will be held on Friday, March 27.

The tie between Kewaunee and Two Rivers was settled by the withdrawal of Kewaunee from future competition. The winners of the second rounds: Mayville from West Allis and West Bend; Port Atkinson from Columbus and Portage; Two Rivers from Kaukauna; Kaukauna from Berlin and Shiocton; Arcadia from Sparta; Wausau from Antigo and Colby; Ladysmith from Mellon; Chippewa Falls from Mondovi and New

Many dependents who survive members cannot be taken to Mooseheart, Ill., national headquarters of the lodge, where an extensive organization has been developed to educate children and care for aged persons.

Under plans being completed those who cannot be moved will be cared for at a number of homes to be created.

Two Statements—one of which has to do with Health

AN OPEN LETTER

(Name on Request)

MR. HALEY FISKE, President
METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE CO.
NEW YORK CITY

My Dear Mr. Fiske:

Why don't you publish a Heart Statement along with the regular Financial Statement you put out each year?

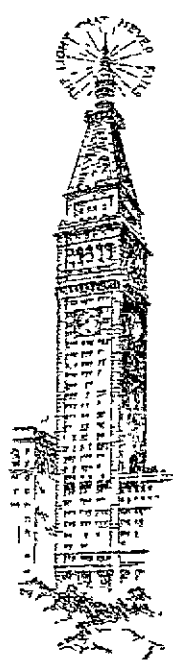

Any company can publish impressive figures of financial strength, financial growth, etc. But figures don't stick. All I remember from your last year's Statement is that the Metropolitan has several million policyholders and is the biggest life insurance company in the world.

I've been following some of your magazine advertisements lately that tell of work you're doing to help people live longer. It isn't entirely clear in my mind just how you're doing it or why you do it, but since you are doing it, give us the facts and figures on that. Call it a Heart Statement or a Welfare Statement, or anything you like, but—give us the facts.

Perhaps other Metropolitan policyholders like myself would be interested in a Statement of that kind.

Very truly yours,
C. N. S.

WE are indebted to Mr. S. for his suggestion. It is an excellent one. We publish an annual Business Statement of the Metropolitan, not because we think that the figures will be remembered, but because they offer conclusive evidence of unusual growth and strength to its 22,000,000 policyholders.

And it is this extraordinary financial strength that makes it possible for the Metropolitan to carry on a nation-wide campaign for better health and longer life.

People now live longer

Records kept by the Metropolitan show an extraordinary decrease in the death rate among its policyholders. Compared with 1911, for example, there were nearly 62,000 fewer deaths in 1924 among its Industrial Policyholders than there would have been if the 1911 death rate had prevailed.

You are the gainer

You and all the other 22,000,000 policyholders—one out of every six people in the United States and Canada—reap the benefit through better health and decreased cost of insurance.

The wealth of the Metropolitan belongs to you and to no one else. The Metropolitan has no stock and no stockholders. It is owned solely by its policyholders.

You, as one of the policyholders, share in the ownership of all its investments; in its railroad bonds, its real-estate mortgages, its loans to farmers, loans to states, cities and towns for public improvements and similar enterprises.

You, as a part-owner of over $1,600,000,000, should read the two statements on the left with a feeling of pride in what your company has achieved.

The efforts as well as the assets of the Metropolitan are dedicated to protection against future want—to greater happiness, better health and longer life.

Harry Fiske,
PRESIDENT

FORMER MENASHA MAN MYSTERIOUSLY SLAIN AT HANCOCK

Fred Felch Killed While on Automobile Tour, Telephone Message Says

Menasha—Fred Felch of Hancock, Wis., formerly of Menasha, was killed Thursday, but the nature of his death was not definitely known here Friday morning. Unconfirmed reports were in circulation that he had been waylaid by highwaymen as it was known he had sum of money with him when he left home.

Announcement of his death was received Thursday night by Mr. and Mrs. William Egan, the latter a sister of Mr. Felch, in a telephone message from Mrs. Felch. Mrs. Felch said he left Thursday morning on an automobile trip into the country in company with a man whose name she did not know, and was unable to tell whether he was killed in an automobile accident, a railroad collision or by highwaymen. All the information she could give was that an inquest was to be held Friday morning.

With no other information in their possession, Mr. Egan and William Laemrich, the latter an undertaker, left for Hancock at 8 o'clock Friday morning and are expected to return late Friday afternoon with the body. Funeral arrangements will be announced Saturday.

Mr. Felch had made his home at Hancock for the last eight years, during which time he ran a pool room and confectionary store. He was 52 years of age and is survived by his widow, father, Charles Felch, and sister, Mrs. Egan, the latter two of Menasha.

MUST MOVE OUTDOOR SCHOOL NEXT YEAR

Neenah—The open air school in the city hall may be continued for the remainder of the present term, after which a new location will have to be provided. H. J. Zemlock, city clerk was informed in a letter from L. W. Lembecke, inspector of the state industrial commission. The commission declared the city hall an improper place to hold the school.

The commission held that proper fire escapes, entrances and exits were not found in the city hall building and that the school was located too near to the fire station for safety.

The council decided that the expense of remodeling and repairing the school room would be too great for the few children who are attending and that a new school building was soon to be erected which would be provided with a suitable open-air school room. The present term will be continued as ordered by the commission after which a suitable place will be provided until the new school is completed.

Attorney Homer Benton, left for Madison Thursday morning on business. He was expected to return Saturday.

WIFE SAYS HUSBAND SQUANDERS ESTATE, WANTS GUARDIAN

Mrs. Wieckert Names Son as Executor of Estate but His Wife Objects

Neenah—The will of the late Mrs. Marie Wieckert of this city has been admitted to probate but because of complications which have arisen, no executor has as yet been named. Mrs. Wieckert named her son, Edward Wieckert as executor without bond and vested in him full authority to handle the estate.

Objections to the appointment were filed, however, by Margaret Wieckert wife of the son named, on the grounds that he is not a fit person to handle the estate and will waste and squander it. John F. Kluwin, attorney for Margaret Wieckert and her minor children, has filed a petition asking that a guardian be appointed for Edward Wieckert and his estate. Hearing in the matter of guardianship has been set for March 31, in probate court.

The petition asking to have the will of Marie Wieckert probated stated that she left a personal estate not exceeding $18,100, a homestead in Neenah valued at $5,500 and two lots in the city of Menasha valued at $400. Five of the grandchildren are bequeathed $100 each. She also bequeathed to her daughters, Minnie Haertl of Clintonville and Flora Schlegel of Menasha, $1,000 each. The household goods and effects should be divided among the two daughters and the son Edward, one-third to each. The remainder of the estate was bequeathed to the son Edward. It is alleged that the bank which was the depository of Mrs. Wieckert has without authority of law turned over to Edward Wieckert cash and property of considerable value, all of which he is squandering.

Longworth's Next Promotion Is To Senate, Friends Say

WASHINGTON—Although Nick Longworth will not officially be elected or seated as speaker until the new House assembles next December, political oracles already have doped out for him the next step in his career.

From speaker, according to the "dope," he is to move up to a senatorship. There he would be counted upon to remain as a fixture, since even Nick's closest friends scarcely cast him in the role of a presidential possibility.

While Longworth has proved himself politically invulnerable in his home hall of Cincinnati, having been defeated there but once in 20 years—and that in the Wilson year of 1912—he has never faced a test of strength in a state campaign.

Elements of popularity which have made him strong in his home district might hinder rather than help in an election in which the voters of the whole state had a voice.

A period in the speakership, it is believed, may give Longworth new prestige among his "folks back home" and win for him recognition as a distinguished Ohioan rather than merely as a favored son of Cincinnati.

While Longworth has been known and liked in the House for his own ability and personality, he is still known by the rank and file of his fellow Buckeyes, outside of Cincinnati, because of his "in-laws."

He is still identified, over the state at large, either as "President Roosevelt's son-in-law," or as "Alice Roosevelt's husband."

In addition, due to the fact that

Half the world is half asleep

It is terrible to feel all dragged out—to live from one day to the next in a constant state of weariness. Yet thousands do, because constipation is destroying their energy—even their interest in life. Only Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings sure and safe relief from this disease.

"Poor Betty! She always looks tired"

BETTY was the office mystery. Once pretty, her beauty now lay masked behind an unwholesome complexion. Once vivacious, she now seemed eternally tired—a drooping figure of disappointment and dismay. Too bad she didn't realize that it was constipation which was stealing her strength.

But many men and women rid themselves forever of this devastating disease, by the simple, pleasant means of eating two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day—or in chronic cases, with every meal.

As Kellogg's ALL-BRAN journeys through the system, its fiber remains unchanged. It is what doctors call a bulk food—a bulk food which sweeps the intestine clean—a bulk food which absorbs and carries moisture through the intestinal tract, stimulating natural, healthy action. Something habit-forming pills and drugs can never do.

Serve Kellogg's ALL-BRAN with milk or cream, sprinkled over cereals; cooked with hot cereals; in soups, or made into the many recipes given on the package. Delicious with fruit, baked apple, etc.

Caution: Only ALL-BRAN brings sure results. A part-bran product can only be partially effective. Kellogg's is the one, only and original ALL-BRAN. All grocers sell it. Buy a package today. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or the grocer returns the purchase price. Served in leading restaurants and hotels.

Hills And Steinke Ready For Big Go Friday Night

German Mat King In Fine Condition For Battle In Armory G

Victory Over Undefeated, Uncrowned Heavyweight King Will Give Hills Big Matches

With both principals in Appleton's biggest wrestling match of the year in fine condition and "raring" to go the stage is all set for a battle which will satisfy even the most thrifty fans Friday night at Armory G. Those who have not already purchased tickets would do well to come early as indications from all over the valley and Milwaukee point to a fine crowd. Steinke has made a big hit with Cream City fans and has fought to packed houses there twice within a month. On both appearances many were left out in the cold and they are taking this opportunity of verifying what they have heard from their friends about the big boy.

Hans arrived in Appleton Wednesday evening, but has been keeping under cover and away from the crowds since, although he probably has put in plenty of training since arriving here. He is one of the hardest trainers in the mat game, and some say he works as hard as a champion boxer to keep in condition. This accounts for his easy victories over all comers. Men who have seen him in encounters with stars of the game say that his speed is the best that will ever be seen in a heavyweight grappler appearing in Appleton. He carries his 250 pounds with ease and with this weight behind a speedy attack his opponent is in for a hot even-
FOR SQUARE DEAL

George Hills, Wisconsin's best mat artist, needs no introduction to local fans who like a square deal and a game fight. George's weight has always been against him in matches with the real stars, where he has been forced to give from 5 to 15 pounds at times, but his game and speedy fight has put many on their backs and other more fortunate boys have come out with no desire for another meeting with Hills. He fights from start to finish with never a bit of stalling and has squeezed out of holds that would make most of the big boys give up with pain. He uses his head with his great speed and gameness so that he does not waste a motion but makes each count for some gain in the end.

George is a clean fighter and only resorts to the rough stuff when he has to, quitting as soon as his opponent shows a desire to battle cleanly again. In the battle with Andre Anderson, the Pittsburgh Swede, he was hit with everything except the box office before he retaliated, and when the Swede shut down, George did the same. The Swede was beaten by George's game fight although his weight was about 15 pounds above the local boy's.

While Steinke will have part of Milwaukee and the valley with him, George will be backed by all of Appleton and it should be an interesting battle from the sidelines. Hills is sure of big things if he beats the undefeated, uncrowned king of the world's heavyweights, so the fight should be the valley's best of the year.

A group of good preliminaries have been arranged by Promoter Elmer Johnson and the first match will start at 8:35. All of the preliminaries will be worth seeing as Johnson has a speedy group of kids signed for the goos. Ladies will be admitted free if accompanied by a gentleman.

FIRST BASEMEN IN A. L. BOAST UNIQUE RECORD

New York—Every regular first baseman in the American League took part in 100 games or over during the 1924 campaign. And five of them reached the 140-mark and above.

Wally Pipp of the Yankees showed the way with 153 frays to his credit, or just two more than Sisler of the Browns had. They came later, Arthur Jones of the Athletics, 149; Sherry White Sox, 146; and Judge, Washington, 140. Harry Red Sox was well up with 132 followed by Burns, Cleveland 129, and Lu Blue, Tygers, with 108.

Six substitutes were used at this position in the course of the season. Del Pratt of Detroit with 51, getting into the most games.

Wrestles Hills Tonight

Hans Steinke, giant German mat star, who has beaten the country's best heavyweights, will meet George Hills, local star at Armory G, tonight. Steinke has lost only one fall in more than 30 bouts in the year since he came to this country. He lost a fall to Pletina, but came back and took the next two in record time.

STATE HIGH SCHOOL CAGE MEETS BRING STARS TO MADISON

Dew, Wagner and Hotchkiss, Valley Conference Men, Good Material for Varsity

Madison—The annual state high school basketball tournament brings stars to the university of Wisconsin yearly—men whose playing was above the average in high school and who continue in athletics by playing with the Badger teams coached by Dr. W. E. Meyer.

Wagner, Dew, Hotchkiss, Nelson, Curtis, Millard, all stars on the present freshman squad at the university were first brought into contact with the University through participating in the state high school tournament last year. They were drawn to the University by contacts formed at that time and through the welcome extended to them by the entire student body.

Dew and Wagner were members of the state champion team from Fond du Lac. Hotchkiss was the star of the Oshkosh quintet which came to the 1924 tournament. Nelson played with Wisconsin High School at Madison, and Curtis and Millard were in the Wauwatosa lineup that won the consolation trophy last year. These men are playing under the direction of Coach Walter E. Meanywell and are most promising material for next year's varsity squad.

Behr from Rockford, Ill. Ere of Mt. Pleasant, Ill. Sappenfield of Okla. Bary of St. Cloud, Minn., Chelstrom of Aurora, Ill., Berry of Tilden Tech. and Gentile of Chicago are other linemen of the yearling squad that took part in state tournaments in other states, but were drawn to Wisconsin through the fame of her basketball teams. The freshmen of this year will be the varsity of the next year and they will in turn draw athletes to Wisconsin. Thus the state tournament is one of the best means of getting prospective athletes to become acquainted with the University and of drawing them here to school the next year.

ELK WHIRLIGIGS START ON SATURDAY

All leagues of Appleton have been invited to get in line running for the prize money which will be offered for winners in the Elk whirligig bowling tournament which starts Saturday on the Elk alleys. The tourney will run from March 21 to April 13 and entries can be made at the Elk alleys. An entrance fee of $1 is charged and all entry money will be returned to the successful bowlers as prizes.

The meet will be divided into doubles and singles. In the two-man events, the entrants are allowed to take the drives as often as they desire, the only requirement being that they have a different partner each time. By this system bowlers are able to cop several prizes in the same meet.

EIGHT TEAMS COMPETE IN FIRST GIRLS' CAGE MEET

Chippewa Falls—What is believed to be the first girls' basketball tournament ever staged in this section of Wisconsin will be held here on March 20 and 21. Eight teams, representing the pick of girls' high school quints, will battle for the silver trophy cup, awarded by the Chippewa Falls Telegram, which is sponsoring the meet.

Notre Dame High school of Chippewa Falls, ten times a winner in as many starts, is favored to win the tournament by followers of the game. St. Mary's High School, Ladysmith; Chippewa Falls High school, Chippewa Falls; Owen, Stanley, Boyd, Eau Claire and Greenwood, high schools.

The games will be played in the Notre Dame Junior High school gymnasium here.

NUSS AND CONLEY HEAD FINE CARD AT GREEN-BAY FRIDAY

Real Fireworks Guaranteed When DePere Boy Meets Fighting Parson

Green Bay—Green Bay boxing fans will be treated to one of the best fight cards ever staged here Friday evening, Mar. 27 at the Park Armory. The wind up scrap between Jimmy Nuss and Roy Conley is a big enough attraction to pack the Armory.

It has been demonstrated in all of their bouts that Conley and Nuss are of the type who know only fight and when these two boys face each other it is a guarantee of real fireworks. This bout has been a real argument amongst the fans and friends of both boys for two years. Neither fighter will be satisfied with anything short of a K. O.

The promoters have gone to additional expense to back up the main event with a high class card. The "semi" should be a whirl wind affair, as both scrappers are of the type who stand toe to toe and do not give an inch. Wycko is without a doubt a high class performer as any boy who can floor Ray Miller and beat him badly must be above the average run of boxers. His opponent, Charlie Webber, is one of the most aggressive boys in the Junior light weight division and made a host of friends in his last start when he battled Joe Azzarella to a draw at Milwaukee.

In the Slack-Schipper bout the fans should see some real milling as both boys have won all of their bouts up to date and one of these boys will have to step out of the picture. Skipper is a big favorite at Oshkosh. Normal where he is a star on the basketball and football teams.

Bozo Skunkel Milwaukee's leading announcer and known as the "Joe Humphries of the West", has been engaged by the promoters and will throw his silver voice so the fans can rest assured that they will be well informed as to the contestants and weights etc.

BOB KNOBE LIKE SISLER IN FIELD BUT NOT AT PLATE

Lakeland—In the field, Bob Knobe, who is pressing the veteran, George Burns, for the first base assignment on the Cleveland Indians, reminds one of George Sisler. At the bat the resemblance is not so striking. If Knobe can hit big league plying the Indians, with Burns and Knobe to look after the initial sack, have no worries on that score. Knobe hits left handed and southpaw pitching of the major league caliber bothers him. It is a coincidence that Knobe, who steps around the bag in Sisler fashion, also hails from the University of Michigan, acquiring the fundamentals of baseball there.

TWO RIVERS CLAIMS STATE 'PRO' BASKETBALL TITLE

Two Rivers—The Two Rivers basketball team, which defeated the Oconto Legion by a score of 30 to 15, now claims the state semi-pro title. Oconto put up a very good game, but could not keep up with the passing and basket shooting of the Two Rivers team. Two Rivers has won twenty and lost seven games this season. Of the seven lost, two were by three or four points. The local quint is willing to meet any team with as good a record for the state title. They are especially anxious to meet the Beloit Fairies and the Fond du Lac Legion on any floor.

BADGERS WORK FOR BIG TEN MAT MEET

Madison—With the great showing made against Ohio State last Saturday, the Badger wrestling team under the guidance of Coach George Hitchcock, closed one of the best seasons in the annals of that sport at the university. The record as it stands now is four victories and two defeats, suffered at the hands of Iowa and Ohio State, both major sport teams. Teams defeated by the Badgers are Chicago, Carleton, Minnesota, and Michigan. The record is more outstanding when one takes into account the material that Hitchcock had at the beginning of the season, and the loss through injuries and ineffectibility of some of his best men. All credit for this remarkable record goes to the coach, who so earnestly and skillfully guided the team.

The defeat at Ohio State was expected, but the close score was not. Coach Hitchcock is working his men hard now in order to have them in shape for the conference meet, which will be held in Minneapolis Friday and Saturday. At this meet all of the teams are brought together and pitted against each other in an elimination tournament. Although the standings of the teams are not determined at this meet, the individual conference champions are crowned there. This year there will be more competition than ever.

Toronto—Vice Foley, Vancouver, Canadian bantamweight champion, won a decision over Jackie Johnston, Toronto, in ten rounds in which the title was not involved.

Two More Changes Announced In High Tourney Schedule

River Falls Meets Beloit at 11 O'clock and Bloomer Hits Shawano at 2 on Wednesday in New Schedule

Madison—An error in the first list of district basketball winners for the Wisconsin state cage tournament has been corrected. The new pairings show River Falls, winners of the River Falls district as Beloit's opponent at 11 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

River Falls came through with a 19 to 3 victory over Elmwood in the finals of the district meet and appears to have a strong offensive set of players. Beloit fell 27 to 7 in the semi-final round of the tournament. Menomonie and Hudson are also included in the River Falls district.

SHAWANO MEETS BLOOMER
Shawano, announced yesterday as the opponent for Beloit, has been changed and will meet Bloomer in the first of the afternoon plays. The new pairings follow:

- 10 a. m. Appleton vs. New Glarus.
- 11 p. m.—Beloit vs. River Falls.
- 2 p. m. Bloomer vs. Shawano.
- 3 p. m. Eau Claire vs. Superior.
- 4 p. m. La Crosse vs. Tomahawk.
- 7 p. m. Manitowoc vs. Watertown.
- 8 p. m.—Montfort vs. Wauslesha.
- 9 p. m. Neenah vs. Wisconsin Rapids.

The error may have come out of the report spread throughout the state that Janesville took the White-water district tournament title this year. Milwaukee, Madison, Fond du Lac and Green Bay papers all carried stories giving Janesville the honors in the tournament.

Barron, instead of Bloomer, had been credited with the win in its district and that may also have had something to do with the error in the first list of pairings.

FOUR TEAMS TO MAKE UP MIDWEST LEAGUE IN 1925

Janesville—"Reorganization of the Midwest Baseball league is expected to be completed within the next two weeks. As the outlook stands at the present time, it is possible that the members will be the Beloit Fairies, the Kenosha Twin Sixes, Racine and Logan Squares of Chicago. There had been talk of Waukegan and Rockford joining, but this has dwindled out.

The Kenosha Simmons club and the Kenosha Nash club have been combined with the new club having first call on the players of the Simmons, the Nash and the Canton, O. clubs of last year. Under this arrangement, the new Kenosha club will retain only men who are under contract.

RACINE UNDECIDED
Racine is still undecided as to plans for the future, but it is likely that the Nash Ajax plant, the Racine Baseball association and the business men of the city will finance a team. Racine would have first call on all players left from the two Kenosha teams and the Canton outfit. There is still plenty of material available, including such men as Lathrop, Galia, McGuire and Gray, pitchers; Strong, first base; Lear, second base; Pechous and Blank, shortstops; Stephenson and Doyle, third base; Murphy, catcher, and Jackson, Billis, Leiden, Edmundson and Corey, outfielders.

FAIRIES INTACT
The Beloit Fairies are intact with the championship club of last year which Manager Al Chubb has built up by eight years of hard and excellent work into the most famous semi-pro team in the United States. All clubs in the league will hold the salary limit down and cut the rosters to thirteen men. Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday ball will probably be played.

BIG TEN PREPARES FOR WRESTLING TOURNAMENT

Madison—Big Ten athletic interest this week turns toward the conference wrestling meet at Minneapolis, Friday and Saturday. All of the other mid-winter sports closed their season last Saturday.

The conference meet at Minneapolis consists of number of elimination bouts through which the Big Ten champion in each class is determined. In the percentage of dual meets won during the season, Indiana and Illinois were tied for first, Iowa and Ohio for second, and Wisconsin, third. Lisle Zottner, Portage, captain of the Wisconsin team, has made a better record this season than any of his teammates, having won three falls and three decisions in the six meets in which Wisconsin participated. He is a strong contender for the 145-pound division championship at Minneapolis, Saturday.

Michael O'Laughlin, Randolph, 135-pound division, has also shown good form during the season, winning many of his matches. Other wrestlers whom Coach Eltchcock, will probably take to Minneapolis, are Matthew Hays, 125-pound; Harvey Chada, Green Bay, 158-pound; William Splice, Waterloo, 175-pounds; and possibly Raymond Stipek, heavy-weight.

London—Ted Lewis of England lost to Tom Milligan, Scottish welter-weight in the fifth round of a 20 round bout when he was disqualified for persistent holding.

Hoepple still leads in the Fox River Valley Pocket Billiard tournament at the Carr, Hanson and Pindle Billiard Parlors, but McCoy, who is a close second, has a good chance for the first position as has La Fond who ranks third. La Fond has played one less game than the other leaders and his chance of copying is good, although Hoepple's record is clean at present. No matches are scheduled for some time but a special handicap match has been prepared for Monday night, which should draw a large crowd of fans.

Harold Pindle, state pocket billiard title holder and Gene Carr, veteran cue welder, will meet G. Phillips and E. Phillips at 8:30 in the handicap performance. The Phillips boys are good cue welders and will have to make only 40 points to their opponents' 60. The winners will be awarded a prize.

Mr. Pindle issues a challenge to any player in the valley to meet him in a handicap game at any convenient time. He agrees to make 150 points to his opponents 100. Since winning the state championship at Madison, Pindle has been undefeated in state amateur ranks and is forced to give a handicap to even draw an opponent into a match.

SELL AND N. VERBRICK WIN IN THREE-CUSHION MEET

In one of the biggest upsets of the handicap three-cushion billiard tournament being staged at the Bachman and Hantschel Billiard Parlors, R. Sell, 10, defeated E. Verbrick, 21, Thursday night by a score of 10 to 13. Sell, who has the best handicap in the meet, got off a good start and took an exciting match. In the other game of the feature double header, N. Verbrick, 25, beat Holman, 15, by a 25 to 12 score. N. Verbrick, Sell, Joyce and Umland have reached the second round to date.

WISCONSIN RAPIDS MEN LEAD IN ELK TOURNEY

Wausau—Emil Hein and Lester Hill of Wisconsin Rapids rolled into first place in the doubles in the Elks State bowling tournament here Thursday and Emil Hein scored 1,777 in all the events, placing fourth. The Elks No. 3 team of Wisconsin Rapids went into fourth place in the five men team events. Six Marshfield teams are to bowl Friday night.

to "rub it in" and we doubt if the column duel is finished by June, that's how hot its getting to be and the game was Saturday night. It's good stuff but all we have to say for Punk is that his crew hits Neenah in the opening game at Madison! Nuf Sed!

RIVAL VILLAGE CAGERS MIX IN THIRD BATTLE

A team that does not know when it is licked might be a slogan for the Five Corners cage quint, for after losing two one-sided games to its biggest rival, the Twelve Corners five, the "Fivers" have scheduled another game for Saturday night. The rivalry between the two county villages is so great that one victory by the Five Corners crew over the "Twelvvers" would undo a whole season of disastrous losses and make up for the two defeats already suffered. At least the Five Corner boys cannot sleep well nights because their rivals have a clean slate—therefore the game.

Five Corners' hopes for a victory are based on the fact that after a slow start the "Fivers" quint held the strong Onedia team to a one-point victory scored in the last two minutes of play last week on the Twelve Corners floor. The Indians have cleaned up some of the best all-home teams of the county this season. The game between the "village-rivals" will be played on the Twelve Corners floor and probably will be the season's finale for both teams.

New York—Paavo Nurmi who was forced to quit in his race with Willie Ritola Tuesday resumed training and said he felt fit to tackle his future schedule.

Princeton—John Hawkins, Syracuse, N. Y., set a national Collegiate record of 2:23 7-10 in the 220 yard swim.

BADGERS INVADE THREE PARTS OF U. S.

Baseball Squad Goes South, Track Team, West and Crew, East in 1925

Madison — The current semester, which started last week, will probably see three Wisconsin major sport teams at opposite ends of the country—the baseball team in the south for its annual training trip from April 4-11, the track team on a trip to Berkeley, Calif., April 11 to oppose the University of California in a dual meet, and the varsity eight to the Poughkeepsie regatta on the Hudson river June 22.

Thus will Wisconsin dispatch teams to the three far ends of the United States in mileage which will aggregate ten thousand miles or better.

All three expeditions involve the approval of the athletic council, but coaches in all three sports are optimistic in anticipating final approval.

BASEBALL TRIP

The baseball trip to the Southland as a conditioner for the nine in preparation for its conference season has been instituted for a number of seasons, sending the crew east to compete in the Poughkeepsie meet was revived in 1924, while the track trip to the Pacific coast is a new event.

The track men's long jaunt, if approved, will take in a number of meets on the way out to the coast as well as upon the return. A tentative plan has been suggested where-

PREP CAGE ACTIVITIES CLOSE WITH THIS WEEK

Oshkosh—Basketball activities of high schools will practically close with the completion of the state tournament at Madison next week, Mar. 25-28. Neenah, champion of the local tournament will enter the state meet as representative of this section. Neenah plays Wisconsin Rapids the first evening.

Leading cage stars of the state who play in the meet have much to spur them on, for there are prized gold, silver and bronze medals and other honors to achieve. Dr. Menzies, coach of the Badger university, keeps a close watch of the men in the tourney. Many Badger stars were former high school players.

"W" men of the university will meet the trains, university fraternities will entertain and an banquet at which the all-state mythical team will be announced will be held on Saturday night.

The plans of the athletic department during the coming season are believed to involve a more extensive undertaking than any other conference school has adopted for a single semester. While a number of them send nines to the south annually, and occasionally delegate a team either to the east or west, it is seldom that three major sport squads receive intersectional competition at once.

WESTERN BOWLERS ROLL TODAY IN ABC

Buffalo, N. Y.—Western bowlers will predominate in the tournament alleys for five man games of the American Bowling Congress here Friday night there being teams from Chicago, Milwaukee, Toledo, Peoria, Waukegan, Dayton, Cicero and Kenosha, Wis.

Bowling Thursday was featured by the singles performance of Anthony Herman, of Detroit, who took third place with a score of 694.

A five man team also placed among the ten high, the Elks of Louisville, Ky., scoring a total of 2,574 pins. There was nothing in the two-man event to disturb the standing of leaders, a total of 1,218 pins by Bauer and Allen of Detroit being high for the day. Bauer also took a place among the ten high in all events with an 1342.

Delegates will hold their annual business meeting this afternoon, Peoria, Ill., Toledo, Ohio and Louisville, Ky. are seeking the tournament for next year.

GRANGE TO GRANGE IS NEW ILLINI PASSING ATTACK

Champaign, Ill.—Grange to Grange was the combination that worked most effectively in the first attempts at forward passing in Coach "Eob" Zuppke's spring football practice. This practice was the first time that this play had been attempted. Captain Harold ("Red") Grange caught the passes, tossed by his brother Garland, a freshman. The younger Grange is being groomed for a half on University of Illinois football squad next fall.

The Latest Balloon Tire Development — The New U.S. "LOW-PRESSURE TREAD"

and How Its Flat Contour Prevents Early and Uneven Tread Wear

The First Tread Ever Designed to Properly Meet the Requirements of a Balloon Tire

Operating at the Low-Inflation necessary for Real Balloon Cushioning

IT IS the result of an exhaustive study by U. S. Tire engineers into the causes of early and uneven tread wear on Balloon Tires.

This study demonstrated very clearly that the ordinary round tread is impractical for Balloon Tires.

Due to the peculiar shape a round-tread Balloon Tire takes when under load and moving, and to the consequent working of those parts of the tread on which the weight is concentrated, the tread wears unevenly and quickly in two bands. (Note Tire A.)

The new Flat "Low-Pressure Tread" cures all this. Its flat contour and the larger area of road contact greatly reduces the weight carried per square inch of tread.

There is much less tread distortion and tread movement.

There is better traction.

There is also better non-skid protection because the flexible outerrow of tread blocks is in full contact with the road, and steering, too, is easier.

But above all, the new Flat "Low-Pressure Tread" permits running the tire on the low inflation necessary to give real Balloon Tire cushioning—without causing early, uneven and disfiguring tread wear.

Why
U. S. Royal Balloon Cords present "The Balloon Tire principle at its Best"

Here is the tire that combines more exclusive points of superiority than any other tire you ever used or heard of:

Sprayed Rubber—pure rubber derived direct from the Latex without acids or smoke.

Latex-treated Web-Cord—the only cord construction in which the individual cords are webbed together with pure rubber Latex. Not only strong but extremely flexible, permitting the tire to flex freely without injury even at extremely low air pressures.

Flat Band Method of Building—insuring uniform position and tension of all the cords in the tire.

The New, Flat "Low-Pressure Tread"—adding 22 per cent more tractive surface on the road, doing away with uneven wear, and giving you many more miles out of your tire investment.

* * *

Specify U. S. Royal Balloon Cords—"The Balloon Tire principle at its Best."

BOTH of these tires have run approximately the same number of miles, under the same load, and with the same inflation.

Tire A has the old round tread. Look how it has worn down on each side.

Tire B has the new U. S. Flat "Low-Pressure Tread." Note the slight and even wear over the whole tread, although it has gone over a 1000 miles more than Tire A.

A., will be the speakers at the World Outlook Forum, at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. The speakers will talk on "Amateurism or Professionalism?" He will point out how professional ruins the boy's future life, often causing him to leave school. Mr. Jensen will lead a general discussion on the subject from the Y. M. C. A. and outside-of-school standpoint.

AUDIENCE ENJOYS SAXOPHONE BAND

The new saxophone band of Our Johnston post of the American legion got off to a wonderful start in its first public concert in Lawrence Memorial chapel Wednesday evening. The band was organized only a few months ago but the careful training which the men have had was reflected in the excellent program they presented.

The audience was convinced that Appleton has added another really worthwhile musical organization. The young men handled themselves well and they played a number of really difficult selections.

A great deal was added to the program by the assisting artists, Mrs. Oscar Adler, Miss Isabelle Wilcox, George Nixon, Carl McKee, Percy Fullinwider, Mrs. Fullinwider, Miss Maxine Helmer and Clarence Meltz. The quartet numbers in the second part of the program were particularly pleasing and Mr. Fullinwider's violin solos were thoroughly appreciated.

CHAMP BOWLER HURTS LEG TRYING FOR HIGH SCORE

$5. Reward

To anybody who will report black smoke coming from our chimney on our Annex for as much as five minutes, all told, in a twenty-four hour period.

Be sure you properly identify our chimney. It is the high one at the west of the Annex, inset with contrasting bricks, rimmed around with iron hand rails.

You may discover a light haze of smoke. More than this we do not want. We want you to help us maintain our heating plant efficiency. We are doing our bit to abate the smoke nuisance.

We notice that the Traction Company, one of the largest power units in the Midwest, is spending several hundred thousand dollars this coming summer to make their wonderful plant as smokeless and sootless as it is efficient in other ways.

They are doing this not only because their action contributes in a large measure to a sootless city, but because soot and smoke are wasted money.

You housewives of Appleton whose fresh-washed linen on the line is ruined by smudge, smoke and soot will appreciate this commendable change.

Our own contribution to removing the smoke evil is already made. No more smoke in the downtown district if Pettibone's can help it.

If you cannot win the $5.00, our engineer will get it.
